

THE NAUGHTY PIRATES

WELCOME TO THE WORLD OF NAUGHTY PIRATES!
Despite the name, it's not the latest in a series of well-known swashbuckling Hollywood movies. It is in fact a new gallery in our very own Brighton. The Naughty Pirates aims to showcase the latest, idiosyncratic, magical and extraordinary in the very un-ordinary world of making and showing works of art.

The gallery offers a varied selection of framed images, mounts, hand-enhanced prints and cards for every occasion. The Naughty Pirates are moored on Brighton beach opposite the merry-go-round and open Friday to Sunday from 11am to 5pm

Heidi Rhodes
www.heidirhodestextiles.com
Heidi studied textiles at Chelsea Art College and graduated with a BA Hons in Textile Design. Since graduating she has worked as an artist and arts practitioner in the area of mental health and for people with learning disabilities. Over the past three years she has worked full time as a professional artist producing a range of imagery all with a fairy tale feel. Her current work includes a series of iconic London buildings and bridges, many including last year's celebrations, the Olympics and the Jubilee pageant. Most recent is the naughty fairy range who have begun their travels by causing all sorts of chaos during their visit to London!

Stephen J Connett
www.thenaughtypirates.com
Stephen is an artist who explores in collage the nature of the media culture – and its influence on him as a receiver of that culture – in a biting, satirical and humorous way. He graduated with a degree in Film at Surrey Institute of Art and Design in 2000 and continues to work in audio visual media alongside his collage work. Stephen is currently the manager of The Naughty Pirates Gallery and is looking to expand the range and possibilities of the Naughty Pirates art brand.

Katja Dell
www.katjadell.com
Katja is a part-time freelance illustrator based in Brighton and has exhibited at several local galleries and Open Houses. After studying photography in London and later re-training in illustration, she was awarded an MA in Sequential Design/Illustration from the University of Brighton in 2011. Katja is fascinated by Pop-surrealism, the Steam-punk revival and anything remotely Victorian. Her passion for boisterous lacy fashion, fancy hats, burlesque theatre, antique dolls, tattoo art, haunted mansions, vampires and cupcakes has always provided an abundance of inspiration for her work. She spends most of her weekends sipping tea with a Baron and creating unique and quirky characters that are becoming increasingly popular.
